Message from the Headteacher

As I write members of the PTFA are busy preparing for today's Christmas Fayre. The sun is shining and with so many lovely things to spend money on we are looking forward to this wonderful money raising event.

Speaking of raising money – huge thanks are due to the parents and staff who ran the Christmas discos last week - £475 raised in total and a great time had by all.

Look out for the Parish Christmas card this year which has been designed by Alice Rawson in Class 5 – congratulations to her for winning this annual competition.

Commendations were also received this week by Reilly Martin, Ella Wallis and Isaac Holyer who entered Charlie Elphicke's competition this year.

Charlie Elphicke MP visited Class 2 this afternoon and faced a barrage of questions from the children as part of their learning about Guy Fawkes and the Houses of Parliament. Questions, which the children composed themselves, included: 'Are there security guards at the Houses of Parliament?'; 'Do you see the Queen every day?'; 'Why do you think everyone voted for you?'; 'What were your emotions when the decision was made to bomb Syria?'. I am sure you will agree these are great questions from such young children. We look forward to hearing his answers – these will be recorded by two roving reporters from Class 5 who are 'covering the event'!

Despite recent requests about this, we are still struggling with having to supervise children beyond the end of the school day/event due to parents being late to pick up. Please ensure that you have a family member or friend who can collect your child(ren) if you are delayed. As you know, you will need to inform us of these arrangements. Have a good weekend – only 20 more sleeps until Christmas!
