The Cup Final

Cup Final Facts

- The match is widely known as just the Cup Final.
- It is the last match in the Football Association (FA) Challenge Cup.
- It has about 86 000 spectators and millions of TV viewers.
- The trophy (winner's cup) is only on loan to the winning side.
- It is the oldest cup competition in the world, first played in the 1871 - 72 season.

Who Can Enter?

The Challenge Cup competition is open to any club in the top ten levels of the English Football League. Once clubs have registered to play, the tournament is organised into 12 randomly drawn rounds, followed by the semi-finals and finals. The higher ranked teams join the competition in later rounds when some of the lower ranked teams have been knocked out.

What Do the Winners Receive?

The winners of the final match receive the Football Association Cup, the FA Cup. It comes in three parts; the base, the cup and a lid. Over the years, there have been two designs of trophy and five cups have been made. The first cup, known as the 'little tin idol', was stolen in 1895 and never returned. An exact replica was made and used until 1910. From 1911, a new design was made. In 1992, another copy was made as the cup was wearing out from being handled, and another replacement was made in 2014. The cup is presented at the end of the match, giving the engraver just five minutes to engrave the winning team on the silver band on the base. The cup has ribbons from both teams decorating it during the final. The loser's ribbon is removed before the presentation. Each club in the final match is given 30 winners or runners-up medals. These are given to players, staff and officials.

Where Are the Matches Held?

The first 12 round matches will usually be played at the home ground of one of the two teams. From 1923 to 2000, the old Wembley Stadium hosted the finals. The only exception was in 1970, when the replay between Leeds and Chelsea was held at Old Trafford, Manchester.

Between 2001-2006, whilst Wembley Stadium was being rebuilt, the final was held at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff.

The final match has been played at the rebuilt Wembley Stadium since 2007 and the semi-final and final matches have been played there since 2008.

What Do the Winners Receive?

The winners of the final match receive the Football Association Cup, the FA Cup. It comes in three parts, the base, the cup and a lid. Over the years, there have been two designs of trophy and five cups have been made. The first cup, known as the 'little tin idol', was stolen in 1895 and never returned. In 1958, a criminal by the name of Henry James Burge claimed to have carried out the robbery, but the police reports did not match his account of events and the case was closed. The FA fined Aston Villa £25 to pay for a replacement as it was stolen whilst they had it in their care. An exact replica was made and used until 1910. In 2005, this version was sold at auction and made £42 000. It was bought by David Gold, chairman of Birmingham City, and presented to the National Football Museum for public display. From 1911, a new design was made. It was larger than the previous trophy, standing 61.5cm high. In 1992, another copy was made as the cup was wearing out from being handled, and another replacement was made in 2014. This took over 250 hours to make and weighs 6.3kg of solid silver. The cup is presented at the end of the match, giving the engraver just five minutes to engrave the winning team on the silver band on the base. The cup has ribbons from both teams decorating it during the final. The loser's ribbon is removed before the presentation.

Each club in the final match is given 30 winners or runners-up medals. These are given to players, staff and officials. In 1914, Burnley won the cup and received medals struck in error, as "English Cup Winners".
